

Murray State University Honor

EPCOR's own Rayleen Pirnie, Director, Risk & Fraud Education, received the Nathan B Stubblefield Distinguished Lecture Series in Telecommunications System Management award at the Information Security Conference in Murray, Kentucky in April.

Murray State University presents two awards annually to deserving individuals who visit the campus and speak to students, faculty or staff members and deliver insight and experience in connection with the Telecommunications Systems Program. Recipients demonstrate an understanding of the telecommunications field and offer their knowledge to educate and inform others.

Media coverage from the event, including an interview with Rayleen, has been posted on YouTube by a student body film crew.
